UNION MEETING

On Saturday, December 5, the union will be having a special "industry meeting". It will be held at the meeting hall in the JATC building, 6220 Kansas Ave, NE, beginning at 8:00 a.m. (expected to last approximately 3 hours).

The purpose of this meeting will be to discuss how the weak economy, and the weaker construction market, have worsened the problems experienced by the union construction industry in recent years. It is the decline of union construction which we must address - and we must address it now!

NECA, in conjunction with Local 26 through a plan called "Blueprint for the 90's", has recommended that a number of specific steps need to be taken at the National, Regional, and Local levels to get back the market share lost in recent years. Most of these steps involve significant changes in the way our industry operates.

All electricians are strongly urged to attend.
